This Valentine's Day... Wine. Chocolate. New Construction?

At Liz Moore and Associates, HGTV is our Jerry Maguire and Tom Cruise has got nothing on the Scott Brothers. Really, is there anything more romantic than glittering new appliances and the smell of freshly cut lumber? And so, we have partnered with our most loved builders (you had us at hello!) in Ford's Colony to host this special event, and we cordially invite you to come along.

Tour new homes, see the latest in building innovations, and oh yes, sample wine compliments of the Wine Seller and a selection of chocolates. Grab that special someone and be prepared to fall head over heels!
